

Do you have a child who participates in organised physical activity?

What is this study about?

This research aims to find out what parents, children and sporting coaches feel are the benefits and barriers to participation in organised physical activity programs around Australia for children with physical and developmental disabilities and challenges.

What will I be asked to do?

We are seeking parents, guardians, children and coaches to complete an online survey about children's participation in organised physical activities. We wish to hear from parents of children with disabilities, developmental challenges or additional needs who are aged between 4-17 years. The online survey will take approximately 20 minutes to complete and will increase by around 5 minutes for each additional child that a parent has. If you wish to participate please visit our website.

Why is this project being run?

This research aims to better support developmentally vulnerable children to participate in physical activities. The data collected will assist in developing resources for parents, coaches and health professionals to identify:

- 1) What key factors translate to participation in physical activity for children with a disability
- 2) What may help to enable children with a disability to participate in organised physical activity
