

AUSSIE DEAF KIDS - CONSENT FORM TO PUBLISH PHOTOS AND OTHER MEDIA

I, [Parent/Guardian Name] hereby give my consent for Aussie Deaf Kids to publish photos and other media provided by me on Aussie Deaf Kids' website, social media platforms, in a publication or in print.

By signing this form, I acknowledge that I have read and understood the tips below for child-safe photography provided by Aussie Deaf Kids and agree to follow them when taking or submitting photos for publication.

I understand that I or my child can change our minds at any time and request that a photo or other media be removed from Aussie Deaf Kids' website, social media platforms, publication or print.

I understand that Aussie Deaf Kids will only publish photos and other media that are appropriate and respectful of the dignity of all children and young people.

Privacy:

Aussie Deaf Kids takes the privacy of children and young people very seriously. We will only publish photos and other media with the consent of the parents or guardians and where appropriate with the consent of the children and young people themselves. Please check with your child, where age-appropriate, that they consent to share their image with Aussie Deaf Kids. Aussie Deaf Kids will never share personal information or contact details of children and young people without express consent from the parents or guardians. Aussie Deaf Kids will take all steps to ensure these images are used solely for the purposes for which they are intended. If you become aware that these images are being used inappropriately, please inform us immediately.

I agree to the above terms and conditions and give my consent for Aussie Deaf Kids to publish photos and other media provided by me.

Child-safe photography tips:

1. Avoid posting photos of identifiable locations and landmarks
When taking photos of your child, try to avoid capturing anything in the background that could identify your location. This includes street signs, house numbers, school logos, and landmarks.
2. Do not post photos of your children in school uniforms
While uniforms may create a sense of pride, posting photos of kids in their uniforms can identify the school they go to. This information needs to be kept private.
3. Avoid inappropriate poses or clothing in photos
Think about the way your child is posed and what they're wearing in the photo. Avoid poses that could be deemed inappropriate and clothes that could be linked to sexuality or nudity.
